The Sheltered Guide 06/23/2021

Hello General Members!

As June comes to an end, we are continuing with our research on Trust-Based Relational Intervention (TBRI). Building trusting relationships is the foundation of healing for survivors, so what are some methods to ensure trust can be established?

- TBRI Animate: The IDEAL Response (Karyn Purvis Institute of Child Development, 2019) Dr. Karyn Purvis, developer of TBRI, speaks on the IDEAL Response in a brief, simple and effective animation.
- Building Trust After Trafficking (University of Alabama, 2020) This is a unique resource on how building trust-based relationships in healthcare can result in more complete care for trafficking survivors. This resource even features an Alliance Member!
- Building Trust with Children and Young People at Risk of Child Sexual Exploitation (Michelle Lefevre, Kristine Hickie, Barry Luckock & Gillian Ruch, 2017) An article about the importance of balancing autonomy and protection for children at risk of exploitation. Trust development tactics are also provided.

If your organization has any experience using TBRI or other trust-based techniques, please reach out! We and other Alliance Members benefit from hearing each other's experiences.

Check out additional TBRI resources via the Member Portal.

Our Alliance Members receive an additional 20% off by using promo code NTSAMEMBER at check-out!
