The Sheltered Guide 07/13/20

Hello Alliance Members,

There is so much happening at NTSA and even more with our members across the US! We are kicking off a new topic for this quarter's Sheltered Guide; we will be expanding on the varying approaches of "Addressing High Needs" for survivors. In the upcoming months, we will hone-in on different care approaches for meeting the physical, emotional, social and spiritual needs of survivors (minors, women with children, LGBTQ+, refugees and foreign nationals and more). If you have any resources or advice to share with other Alliance Members, please let us know! We will gladly post it on the groups and include in future correspondence and trainings!

We encourage you to take some time to view these resources:

- Addressing the Needs of Victims of Human Trafficking: Challenges, Barriers, and Promising Practices by the Department of Health & Human Services, 2008
- Responding to the Health Needs of Survivors for Human Trafficking: A Systematic Review by Hemmings, S., Jakobowitz, S., Abas, M. et al., 2016
