

An Eclectic Approach to Homeschooling Charlotte Mason

By Peggy Ployhar, SPED Homeschool Founder & CEO

Eclectic:
Using a method or approach composed of elements drawn from various sources

Three Pillars of Charlotte Mason

- Home Environment
- Character Training
- Developing a Lifestyle of Learning

Home Environment

- Use your walls
- Spread out the books
- Get a green thumb
- Embrace pets
- Designate spaces for variety & mobility
- Reduce/hide the clutter
- Consider environment sensitivities
- Fill with happy things and family memorabilia

Character Training

- Set the example
- Point out behavior
- Character issues are teaching tools
- Relate in conflict
- Book/movie character discussions
- Biblical standard
- Pray for discernment
- “In the way they should go...”
- Loan out your faith
- Volunteer & serve together

Lifestyle of Learning

- Don't overschedule
- Teach beyond books
- Ask questions
- Live in awe & wonder
- Create safe spaces to explore
- Be okay with mistakes
- Set the example and keep learning new things yourself
- Experiment
- Embrace free play & trying new thing

Questions?

Homeschooling parents!!

Homeschool Heroes
is now live and ready for you to join.

spedhomeschool.com

EMPOWERING HOMESCHOOL CONVERSATIONS

Your Homeschooling Authority on Teaching Diverse Learners

LIVE STREAMING

Stephanie Buckwalter

Leilani
Melendez

Peggy
Ployhar

Annie
Yorty

Dawn
Jackson