The 1916 Project Film Reveals Roots of Sexual Revolution, Abortion & Transgender Crises

Thomas W. Jacobson, Global Life Campaign

Last week, I saw one of the most stunning documentaries of my life! The 1916 Project film reveals and connects the enormous impact that a small number of people, with misguided or evil ideas, had during the 1800s and early 1900s that changed the United States and the world. The influence of these few leaders and their ideas led to birth control, eugenics, “The Negro Project,” Hitler’s extermination of the Jews, the sexual revolution, the culture of death and abortion, multi-faceted efforts to destroy marriage and the family, LGBT acceptance, and the transgender crises. We can rebuild the good foundations of our culture and nation, but we must be aware of the lies and false ideologies used to destroy our civilization so we know what must be torn down before we can rebuild.

David Coonradt, the film director, informed me that there have already been “1.5 million post views the last few days.” Also, 800 churches have booked showings for this summer.

Seth Gruber presents and is the narrator of this film. He is the leader of the modern day White Rose Resistance, which you’ll learn about in the documentary and at: <https://thewhiterose.life>.

David Coonradt and his company Fieldwork Media (www.fieldwork.tv) produced the film, and he is the co-writer and director of The 1916 Project.

PRAY for this film to be widely viewed in the United States and in many other nations. Pray that believers in Jesus will be inspired, motivated, and committed to labor for the rest of our lives to tare down the idols and lies that have been destroying our people, and to labor together, side-by-side, to restore the good foundations of our cultures and nations.

For the LORD, the sacred gift of life, and remembrance of the babies,
